The image displays four distinct web design mockups for a project named "DAMN! Gurls".
1. The first mockup is a dark-themed landing page. It features a header with the "DAMN! Gurls" logo and a "Docs" button. The main content area has a heading "A collection that makes sense" followed by two paragraphs of placeholder text. A large, stylized rocket illustration is positioned on the right side. A footer contains a "OpenSea" button.
2. The second mockup is a white-themed page. It has a heading "DAMN Gurls is a 5,555 unit collection." followed by two paragraphs of placeholder text. A small rocket illustration is located on the right side.
3. The third mockup is a dark-themed page. It features a heading "DAMN Gurls is a community-driven DAO." followed by a paragraph of placeholder text. On the left side, there is an illustration of a woman with blonde hair and sunglasses, and a paragraph of placeholder text.
4. The fourth mockup is a dark-themed page. It has a heading "Present your future project to the community." followed by a paragraph of placeholder text. A rocket illustration is on the left side.
5. The fifth mockup is a dark-themed page. It has a heading "Receive funds from the DAO." followed by a paragraph of placeholder text. An illustration of a small, open box with a grid of colored squares is on the left side.
